

HUDSON VALLEY TEXTILE PROJECT

How our Social Media Submissions Work

The Hudson Valley Textile Project is proud to share and highlight accomplishments of our members, exciting events within our region or big news for sustainable textiles. If you have content you'd like us to amplify or publish to our Instagram and Facebook feeds, please fill out a Social Media Submission using this form.

Priority is given to HVTP members, but we are also open to sharing beyond our immediate organization to help amplify causes that align with our own! If you are passionate about creating sustainable textiles using fiber grown, processed and produced within the Hudson Valley region, we're excited to hear about your work.

All Social Media Submissions must include:

- Information about your project
- A link to more information we can share to our audience
- Photography that is 300 dpi and at least 1000 x 1000 pixels.

Posts will typically appear within 1 week of submission; for time-dependent events, please contact us at least 1 week in advance with your submission.

We reserve the right not to post or share something that we feel does not align with our organization's goals. If your submission is rejected, a member of our team will connect with you about why, and discuss how to bring our goals into alignment if possible.
